Re: Encapsulation of Asbestos

Dear Sir and Madam:

As the official, exclusive distributor of genuine, made in USA Thermo-Shield products in Italy under the private label THERMATECH, we forward to you the following certification regarding Asbestos Encapsulation. We CERTIFY that the THERMATECH products would meet the Asbestos Encapsulation requirements specified by the Italian codes as follows:

Interior walls - THERMATECH Interior Tropical at 300 microns with minimum 250 microns at any location.

Exterior Walls – THERMATECH Exterior Tropical or THERMATECH Roof Coat Tropical at 300 microns with minimum 250 microns at any location.

Roofs – THERMATECH Roof Coat Tropical at 300 microns with minimum 250 microns at any location (for asbestos encapsulation only.) For all practical purposes the above rate for roofs would apply only if the asbestos roof is brand new and no leakage at all.

Asbestos roofing panels leak through the seams between panels when the material begins to weather and age. Asbestos is always associated with moss and lichen and that is why we use the "Tropical" version so the roof would stay clean and free of fungus.

THERMATECH Roof Coat Tropical penetrates the surface and permanently binds and encapsulates all frayed and non-frayed asbestos fibers. Because of THERMATECH's elongation, flexibility, strength, durability and exceptional UV resistance it completely rules out the danger of any cracking, flaking, peeling and fracturing of the coating, thus making THERMATECH the perfect coating to completely encapsulate the asbestos material and ensure a long life for the coated roof. In addition, THERMATECH is water-based, non-hazardous and environmentally safe, as well as providing energy savings.

Sincerely,

Peter J. Spiska, P.E.
